STEP 1: As a team, complete the core values challenge bracket. Though there might be some people that push for one to “win” over another, welcome this discussion and then by the final four, everyone should feel good, committed, and on board with the core values chosen.

STEP 2: Once you have your final four, the team should then create their definition of each value.

STEP 3: Make a copy of the 4 values and their definitions and distribute to each team member to have in their locker, at their desk, in their gym bag, or anywhere it is accessible. You can also turn it into a poster.

STEP 4: Use these values to come back to throughout the season, term, or year. A team is likely to face ups and downs throughout a stretch of time and these values can be helpful reminders to the team during these moments.
